Women Disrupting Legal in Disruptive Times

Tuesday, July 21, 2020

12:30 - 1:30 p.m. EDT

By Webcasted Recording

TOPIC

Women Disrupting Legal in Disruptive Times. We are indeed in volatile times and these times require powerful, decisive and disruptive leaders. At this event, a distinguished panel of women leaders will share how they have become influencers in the legal profession. Whether it's a CEO of a tech-enabled NewLaw model, a leading M&A/Corporate partner from a cutting-edge large law firm, or a GC from a dynamic in-house legal department, these leaders are all change agents in their organizations and beyond. During this webcast, you will learn what gives these women the confidence and courage to lead big. With probing questions posed by workplace and women's expert (and fellow disruptor) Debbie Epstein Henry, we'll also uncover how these leaders have learned to take smart risks and make an impact in times of uncertainty. We hope you will join us for this thought provoking, interactive discussion that will explore developing the gravitas and communication skills to be bold and effective leaders in uncharted territory.
