A Chicago-Kent College of Law team won the Midwest regional championship and advanced to the national finals of the National Black Law Students Association's (NBLSA) Thurgood Marshall Mock Trial Competition.

If you want to keep up with the social side of the profession, add your name to the CLN Social Scene newsletter list.
